

International Medical Regulatory Webinar Series

U.S. Commercial Service Global Healthcare & Life Sciences Team

Why International Medical Regulations?

This series of four webinars focuses on major markets for U.S. medical products. Changes to medical regulatory systems in these markets impact U.S. companies' success, and the goal of these webinars is to help U.S. exporters ensure they are up to date on upcoming and recently implemented medical regulations in these key markets.

Main topics to be discussed include:

- Medical products regulatory body for the market
- Best practices to approaching the market
- Upcoming or recent changes to regulations/standards that might affect market access for U.S. medical products exporters
- Resources for U.S. companies if they have an issue with a given regulation/standard
- Market opportunities for U.S. exporters in the market

U.S. Commercial Service Global Healthcare Team

The U.S. Commercial Service Global Healthcare and Life Sciences Team focuses on assisting U.S. healthcare technologies companies in their international development activities. Global Healthcare Team members located in India, China, Canada and the EU will be on these webinars as well to discuss additional opportunities and U.S. Commercial Service support available to help U.S. exporters succeed in these markets.
